Director's Note:

Hello everyone, and welcome to NUStage's Fall 2022 revue Love Is Madness. I was tired of having the same old sickly sweet love songs in our revues, and so - armed with an idea from now graduated alumnus Anika - I set about developing a show about heartbreak and disaster, about intense and overwhelming desire, about flawed and failed relationships and the people that perpetuate them: namely me, you, and everyone else whose heart is still beating. The hope is you'll find some catharsis in our presentation, and that you'll take some piece of it with you when you depart the theater.

But while it was my idea, Love Is Madness is our show, and it would not have been possible without the following people. Our producer Sophia who has taken a mountain of responsibilities on her shoulders and soldiered through all of them unfazed. Our music director Lauren who has almost single handedly brought to life all the amazing vocals you're about to hear, as well as our guest music directors Sarah, Nick and Olivia who helped her along the way. Our pit director Meghan and her assistants Liz and Liam, who have worked tirelessly to ensure our band parts are sounding stellar, as well as overseeing our large team of arrangers and bringing vocals, blocking, and pit all in line with one another.

Our stage manager Steven, who has been preparing set transitions, tracking rehearsals, briefing our run crew and much much more in the past few months so the show you're about to see will go off without a hitch. A shoutout to our three assistant stage managers Reginald, Minea, and Pauline, who poured countless hours into Steven's various projects.

Director's Note(Cont'd):

Our set designer Grace who sacrificed many beautiful Saturdays laboring in the depths of Gainsborough Garage, along with her assistant set designer Rudra. Our props master Diane who has gotten all of our pieces in hand and our costume designer Ashley who has made our actors look absolutely glamorous. Our lighting designer Karen and her assistants Candice and Kali, who have engineered the mood of our show and served incredibly to program and call our lighting this past week. Our graphic designer Jake who worked quickly through countless drafts until we reached the show logo you see today, and our media coordinator Louis who designed our program and made sure our house is as full as possible.

And last but not least our directing team, including our incredible choreographer Carli who taught our dancers the amazing choreo you'll see, my assistant director Bhuvana who developed wonderful blocking for many of our numbers, and our four guest directors Ella, Gray, Erica, and Rachel; we're grateful they lent their many skills to our team.

Thanks to our cast, pit, build and run crew, without whose talent and enthusiasm we wouldn't have a show. Thanks to our executive board, without whose oversight and guidance we would have run off the rails entirely. Special thanks to the Blackman techs who troubleshoot our mic and lighting issues year after year. And lastly, thank you, the audience, without whom all of those impeccable people would have no one but myself and each other to sing their praises.

Jeonghyun Oh (Jay)

Hello, my name is Jeonghyun Oh (Jay). I'm a first year biomedical physics student here at Northeastern University. I've been playing the trombone since 5th grade. I chose my instrument because it was the shiniest instrument in my band class. I'm also part of Concert Band here at Northeastern and I am super excited to be part of music again! I hope to continue being a part of any musical group throughout by undergraduate journey! Special thanks to Mr. Meidenbauer for giving me lessons since 6th grade. Hope you are doing well!

Julie Ratliff

Cast

Hi! I'm Julie, a fourth-year biology major with minors in english and environmental studies. I'm super excited to be involved in NuStage! It's actually my first semester being in the group. I always had a strong passion for choir and band when I was in high school (I played the clarinet). I'm from Cooperstown, NY (It's where the Baseball Hall of Fame is!). In my free time, I enjoy reading, writing, running, listening to music, spending time with friends, and being outside. On campus, I'm involved in NuSci, the genetic counseling club (GCSIG), HEAT, and TriBeta. I'm also a peer tutor. Currently, I'm on co-op working at the Broad Institute doing genetic variant research. After graduating this coming May, I hope to continue working at the Broad and apply to genetic counseling school. Again, I'm really happy to be involved with NuStage! Thank you to all the production staff for all of your help and support!
